HERE'S WHERE FOOTWORK REALLY COUNTS

Ancient art of wine making depends on a lot of footwork. Here Assunta Palestri, 16, left, and her sister, Giovanna, 15, tread grapes with their bare feet in special wooden vessel at their home in Castel San Pietro, about 35 miles south of Rome. Juice flows into cask upon which vessel is placed and is then poured into smaller open casks for fermentation process.

Premier Bennett Proposes 50-50-50 Tax Rent Plan

OTTAWA (CP) — British Columbia is willing to take over the programs on which costs now are shared with the federal government if she gets a 50-50-50 formula on rental of income tax and succession duties, Premier Bennett said today.

He told reporters following a session of the Dominion-Provincial fiscal conference that, if the federal government is sincere in maintaining that provinces which spend tax money should levy the taxes, the B.C. proposal should be acceptable.

His offer, similar to that of Ontario's Premier Frost, would involve the provinces receiving half the total collections from personal and corporation income taxes and succession duties.

Under the present tax-rental agreement, due to expire March 31, 1962, the provinces receive about one-seventh of personal income tax collections, one-fifth of corporation income tax collections and half of succession duties.

Premier Bennett said that in return for adoption of his formula B.C. would take over the Trans-Canada Highway program, hospital insurance plan and various shared-cost social assistance schemes. But it would not include the universal old age pension, paid to all at age 70 entirely by the federal government.

He also said the suggestion of Premier Manning of Alberta for a joint tax imposed by the federal and provincial governments appeals to him.

"Partnership Only Hope For White Race In Africa"

If integration in South Africa is not permitted to come by evolution it will come eventually by revolution, Bryan Roberts, former South African now living in Victoria, told an entranced dinner meeting of the Canadian Club Wednesday night.

In an address which reviewed current conditions in a score of African countries, Mr. Roberts made it plain that he considered the present policy of apartheid as completely stupid and can only inevitably end in a black uprising, say some 15 years hence.

He felt, too, that the white policy in Kenya could only end in disaster for the white race.

Partnership, he said, is the only salvation for the white race in Africa. The handful of whites will eventually be overrun by the much more numerous black races. If an honest attempt at partnership is not made by the whites.

CAUSED BY FEAR

The present policy in South Africa, he said, is the result of a two-fold fear. The first and lesser is fear of Western culture on the part of the Boers. Not so much fear or hatred of Britain but a general fear of Western culture. They know that their own small pocket would be quickly wiped out if Western ideas were allowed to flourish untrammelled in the country.

The second and greater fear is fear of the blacks and this has encouraged a narrow vision, a warped viewpoint resulting in the policy of apartheid which can only mean continual trouble in South Africa until some small incident a few years hence prompts the blacks to uprising seriously.

There can be no doubt of the outcome of such a revolt, unless the United Nations steps in and "does its biggest job."

Mr. Roberts, with a 30-year-old background in South Africa, left the country a few years ago to become a Canadian. It was his second Canadian Club visit here and he was greeted by one of the largest audiences to attend a club meeting here in years.

NEWSPAPERS REVEAL SECRET SURVEY SHOWING U.S. LOSS OF PRESTIGE

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York Times and the Washington Post have disclosed what they say is a confidential government survey made last June reporting a U.S. loss of prestige with the British and French public.

The Post says it obtained a copy of the summary, compiled by the U.S. Information Agency's office of research and analysis. The newspaper also says the summary was prepared for the national security council, of which Vice-President Richard Nixon, the Republican presidential nominee, is vice-chairman.

The Times, publishing the full text of the summary as well as a story, notes that the survey is secret by the Eisenhower administration.

In a speech last Thursday night in San Francisco, President Eisenhower said reports of U.S. loss of prestige among European powers are a debasement of the truth.

The survey percentage figures published by both The Times and The Post are the same.

The Times says the survey, based on an opinion sample of 1,150 British residents and 1,000 French residents made late in May, gave these major conclusions:

1. "Though the U.S.S.R. is blamed most for collapse of the (Mid-May) summit conference, a majority blamed both sides at least in part."

2. "Favorable opinion for the United States as a country and for President Eisenhower has declined in the wake of the summit collapse."

3. "Particularly in Great Britain, current confidence is low in America's capacity for leadership in dealing with present world problems."

4. "There is little support in the present survey for any supposition that the story of the U-2 overflights, however adverse in other respects, strengthened judgments of America's military standing vis-a-vis the Soviet Union."

N. Glenmore Secession Wins Thumping Approval

Kelowna Boundary Extension Plan was finally realized Wednesday when electors voted in favor of allowing North Glenmore to secede from the city by a large majority.

Almost 30 per cent of the eligible owner-electors turned out. Total vote in favor was 1,419 of the 1,589 votes cast. Only 88 persons voted 'no' and 81 ballots were rejected as being illegal. One ballot paper was spoilt.

Although there were 5,468 eligible voters, City Hall and City Council spokesmen were pleased with the turnout.

A City Hall Official said: "We don't usually get such a large percentage turning out on submissions of this type. I personally think it was a very good poll."

Alderman Art Jackson, who has been in charge of the boundary extension scheme since it began three years ago, was also "very happy" with the result.

He said: "We easily passed the 60 per cent majority needed to allow North Glenmore to secede."

"On a vote of this nature I think the turnout was excellent. I think the people of the city for enabling us to keep faith with the people of North and South Glenmore."

"This marks the final stage of the extension plan, and I am very pleased it has been completed so successfully," he said.

ALCOHOLISM TREATMENT

VANCOUVER (CP) — Two patients who attended the traveling clinic on alcoholism when it toured the Kamloops-Okanagan area last summer have been referred to Vancouver for treatment. One More Body Is Sought In Ruins Of Windsor Store

WINDSOR, Ont. (CP) — Rain-soaked searchers, clawing through the horror of a shattered toyland, said today there is likely only one more body within the ruins of the Metropolitan Stores Limited building.

The body of a ninth victim was recovered Wednesday night. Henry Bird, Civil Defence director, said the truth should be known this morning.

If only one body remains buried, then the final toll from Tuesday's natural gas explosion will be 10 dead and more than 80 injured. Instead of the 11 that search officials had feared to have died, twenty-eight remained in hospital today.

Seven bodies were removed from the wreckage soon after the mid-afternoon blast occurred and were quickly identified. An eighth, unidentified in the city morgue until Wednesday. It was identified as that of Mrs. Timothy Slapp of Howard City, Mich.

VICTIM WAS COOK

The ninth victim was John Lepan, 53, of Windsor, a cook who had been working near the furnace where the blast occurred.

Mr. Bird said Mr. Lepan's body had been mistaken for two bodies.

The remaining body visible, he said, is believed that of Joseph Boldue, a store accountant missing since the blast. He declined to speculate on the possibility others might be under the wreckage.

Attorney-General Kelso Roberts of Ontario, inspecting the wreckage, said he is after "quick and thorough" action to determine the exact cause of the explosion.

The bank rate—key to rates of interest at which money can be borrowed—had stood at six per cent since June 23.

Today's change was the third this year. On Jan. 21 it was ruled to five from four per cent, and on June 23 to six per cent.

Ex-Kelowna Man Slain Gang Style

TORONTO (CP) — An expensively-dressed man with a jail record reaching between Ontario and British Columbia was found shot to death today in what police described as a gangland murder.

Dapper Lorne Gibson, 35, died with three revolver bullets through the back of his head and neck.

A police theory was that Gibson, who had a long criminal record involving narcotics, was driven to the laneway in east-central Toronto by gangsters and stood up against a garage wall for execution for some unknown motive.

The body was found by a salvage collector, Madison Wilcox, who had gone to pick up his pushcart in a laneway in the old residential district.

Gibson was lying with his head propped up against the garage wall.

Ernest Bonneau, a resident of the district, said he was watching a crime program before midnight when he heard what he thought were three shots and a car roaring off.

Police said Gibson, born in Oshawa, Ont., had been in and out of jail since he was about 16.

His 10-convictions include one of assaulting police in Kelowna.

SHARP GAINS IN EXPORTS OVERSEAS

OTTAWA (CP) — Sharp gains in overseas exports, along with only a fractional rise in imports, combined to have Canada's trade deficit to $120,500,000 in the first nine months of 1960—less than a third of the imbalance a year earlier.

Exports at $3,995,400,000 showed a rise of 8.2 per cent from the comparable 1959 period, pushing the nine-month figure to its highest level of any similar period since the end of the Second World War.

Imports rose fractionally to $4,115,900,000, as against $4,107,800,000 a year earlier.

Much of the advance came in the July-September period, when exports soared to $1,333,200,000, another post-war peak for the quarter, and outstripped imports to produce an $83,000,000 surplus.

For the whole of 1959 Canada had a foreign trade deficit of $380,000,000—roughly double the 1958 figure.

SALES TO U.K. UP

Most significant feature of the nine-month export trade was a 20-per-cent rise in shipments to the United Kingdom, the rest of the Commonwealth and other overseas countries. Shipments to the United States were virtually unchanged.

OKANAGAN HAS STAKE

O.L. Jones, president of the CCF Association of British Columbia, who is also an executive member of the Kelowna Board of Trade, was the first to comment on the arrival of the ship-ment. He said:

"The Okanagan has a stake in the 'Aylmer' name. We helped make it internationally known. We grew accustomed to the 'Aylmer' label. It stood for quality—Okanagan quality. Now it is being used to sell Japanese products here."

Commenting on the fact that the labels are printed bilingually, in English and French, a prominent figure in Kelowna's fruit industry said it would have been more appropriate to have printed them in English and Japanese, or entirely in Japanese.

Commenting on the appearance of "Product of Japan" on the labels of canned apples marketed by a company with a name associated with British Columbia, Ralph Bulman, of Vernon, president of Bulmans Products Ltd., said today:

"I don't like it a bit."

He said the product is not as good as that produced at home—it looks as good but doesn't taste nearly as good."

Mr. Bulman said that not only Japan but also some areas within the Commonwealth (the cited Tasmania) were shipping canned apples to this province, particularly aimed at the big market at the Coast.

Bulmans stopped canning apples two years ago. It used to can them for export trade, then for the domestic market, but had to cease production because costs were exceeding the selling price.

"We've got the equipment and the know-how and we would like to do it, but we can't make it pay," he said.

U.S. Would Defend Naval Base In Cuba

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States intends to defend its naval base at Guantanamo, Cuba, with force if necessary.

But Eisenhower administration officials, while stressing the government's determination to fight back, says they do not believe Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro will send military forces against the base.

HOSPITAL'S STERILIZER TOPS IN NORTH AMERICA

Through the co-operation of no fewer than nine service clubs, Kelowna General Hospital has a brand new sterilizer—the most modern and only one of its kind on the continent.

The unit, first suggested by R. P. Walrod when he headed the hospital board, was presented Wednesday night by Don Ellis, Lions club president, on behalf of his club and the many organizations and individuals which helped achieve the pledge of $8,000.

This is understood to be about a third of the cost. The government is paying a third also.

Ald. Dennis Crookes, extending the thanks of the hospital board, said he was pleased to see the community take a keen interest in the hospital.

"It is essential to keep this feeling of a community hospital," he said.

Two representatives of the manufacturers, Manlyvo Allott of Nottingham, England, were on hand to thank the board and explain how the new machine differed from its predecessor. They were E. J. Broome, Canadian representative, and V. Sherrill, installation representative.

The sterilizer is many times bigger than the one it replaces and resembles the control bank of a spaceship. It is completely automatic. It has greater capacity, greater speed and greater efficiency.

Final word on the sterilizer, comes from the nurses who use it. They love it.

Japanese Canned Goods Hit by MP

A brand name which the Okanagan helped become a symbol of Canadian quality through the decades is being used to market Japanese products in British Columbia.

Canned solid pack apples are being sold in Kelowna under "Aylmer" labels which also have on them in smaller print "Product of Japan."

As far as can be ascertained the particular product has not found its way on to retail store shelves as yet, but has been distributed to restaurants, bakeries, institutions and other outlets with demand for the 105 fluid ounce cans.

The manager of one such business said he ordered a consignment of "Aylmer" apples under the impression he would get a Canadian quality product. He added that when he saw the "product of Japan" printed on the cartons and cans he contacted his wholesaler who seemed as surprised as he.

MP SPEAKS OUT

E. J. Broome, Tory MP for Vancouver South, who was in Kelowna Wednesday told a Kelowna reporter he had noticed "Product of Japan" on "Aylmer" labels on cartons in the Vancouver customs warehouse recently.

Mr. Broome said he was "very surprised", and thought it "very interesting" in view of the fact he had read statements that Canadian brand labels were not being put on foreign products.

J. E. Ferrell of Penticton recently arrived from the U.S. to take over as Okanagan-area manager for Canadian Canners Limited, said earlier this week that charges that U.S. interests were importing U.S. fruit and tinned foods and putting Canadian labels on them to sell them here as Canadian goods, was against the law for one thing and it certainly is not being done."

Incidentally, "packed for Canadian Canners Limited, head office, Hamilton, Canada," appears on the Japanese product.

SKETCH SHOWS SUGGESTED CHANGES TO POLSON PARK ENTRANCE

City Asked To Consider Improving Park Entrance

VERNON (Staff) — City council, at the suggestion of a Vernon Board of Trade committee, will look into the cost of modernizing Polson Park's entrance. A trade board letter noted that the existing entrance was both "extremely hazardous and extremely busy."

The suggestion calls for both exit and entrance roads, the exit road leading for an enlarged parking area to the left of the entrance. A new fence and curbs south east portion of the park adjacent to "hobo jungles" as a tenting area, was also accepted by council.

But they refused to consider this year, at any rate, a trade board recommendation that an exit road be developed at the bottom of the hospital hill.

Ferry Put In Custody Of Sea Cadets

VERNON (Staff) — "Kalamalka" Sea Cadet corps will act as administrators for the Lequime.

The cadets will use the old ferry for training purposes. The vessel was sold to the city of Vernon for a nominal $1 last summer by the provincial government. It served Kelowna-Westbank traffic before construction of the Okanagan Lake bridge.

City council, which made the decision, learned from May F. Becker that a cash offer of $500 by an individual had been rejected as had an offer from Penticon Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The mayor noted that the city was "not prepared to sell the Lequime."

Ald. Fred August, who proposed that Sea Cadets could use the city's agent and be responsible for administration of the ferry, said it would be "a simple matter" to maintain the vessel.

It is believed the cadets will moor the Lequime in the west end of Kinsmen beach.

Homemaker Show Popular Event

SALMON ARM (Correspondent) — More than 550 persons attended a homemaker panorama held recently in the Institute Hall.

Numerous prizes were awarded during the two shows. One contest was held in which visitors to the show attempted to guess the serial number of an old hand washer. The number was 3,112, Dorothy Morrison of Canoe won by guessing 3,111. Asked how she made her guess she explained that seven is her lucky number.

There were extensive displays of appliances large and small. Mrs. Lillian Radman and chef Mike Farnan gave interesting demonstrations.

The show was brought to Salmon Arm by a local electric appliance store in co-operation with B.C. Hydro.

Yule Gifts To Be Sold At Bazaar

VERNON (Staff) — Many items for Christmas giving will be offered for sale at Vernon United Church's bazaar Nov. 5.

There will be a special Christmas stall offering fruit cakes, puddings and shortbread, a sale of stuffed toys and dolls' clothes as well as baby togs and children's knitted wear. Household linens, aprons, novelties and candy will also be on sale.

Cut flowers, plants, bulbs and shrubs will be sold at the garden stall, and there will be a booth offering small jars of jelly, jam, preserves and pickles.

A baby-sitting service will be in operation throughout the afternoon.

Ken McKay Heads Curlers At Armstrong

ARMSTRONG (Correspondent) — Ken McKay, has been elected president of Armstrong and District Curling Club.

Other officers, named at a recent meeting in the parish hall are Ron Brown, vice-president; P. R. Bawthelmer, secretary; treasurer; and Dave Henley, J. Mullen and Terry Fowler, executive committee.

Retiring president Herb Hoover, in his address, thanked the executive with a special thanks to women curlers and to John Call, who had made numerous repairs to the present building. Mr. Hoover suggested the club could put aside an amount equal to yearly payments now made, in order that a new building might be considered in the future.

The meeting unanimously approved election of William J. Smith as honorary president. Mr. Smith is one of the oldest long-time members of the curling club. Fees will remain the same as last year—$25 plus a $2 rock fee for debutante holders; $5 above that for non-holders and $5 less for women curlers.

Following a suggestion that a trophy should be awarded to the winning rink in the local club's dominion playdowns, Mr. Hoover offered to donate such a trophy.

Frank Harrison announced that his store would donate coffee for the canteen this year. Mrs. Ruby Gray said it was likely women curlers would again look after the canteen.

Rehabilitation Wing Likely To Be Added To Hospital

VERNON (Staff) — It appears it will be included in the forthcoming statement issued by hospital administrator J. O. Dale.

Mr. Dale said the possibility was the result of a joint meeting of Hospital Insurance officials, the medical staff and hospital board president David Howie Sr.

In the meantime, "the medical advisory committee accompanying B.C. Hospital Insurance Service officials were anxious that the program could be implemented in a small way in the existing building before construction of the new wing started," Mr. Dale said.

Hospital architect Paul Smith of Vancouver has been instructed to revise the present sketch plans to conform with recommendations of the medical advisory committee.

Physiotherapy, occupational therapy and other assistance aimed at helping patients prepare for discharge from the hospital will be offered in the proposed rehabilitation wing. It will serve all age groups, Mr. Dale stated. Cost of the addition has not been estimated.

Home Renovation Fair Planned By Vernon Group

VERNON (Staff) — No. 1 project of the Vernon Winter Employment Committee this season will be a home renovation fair, location and date of which will be announced later.

An attendance of 19 at a meeting called recently heard B. L. Schaffer describe a similar fair held in Vancouver.

A. I. Olafson, chairman of the Winter Employment Committee's advertising section, suggested that emphasis on winter employment projects be made in the months of December, January and February.

The National Promotion Week for the "plan No. 2" stage of winter employment has been set for the week of Nov. 7. Under the direction of J. S. Monk, local displays will be set out about No. 4. Oliver N. Tingle, head of the Employment Office in Vernon, emphasized the two phases of the campaign, which are: "plan now," and "do it now."

Mr. Tingle suggested the committee take advantage of the national promotion dates.

Gordon Skinner sponsored a motion, in which he was supported by Mr. Monk, urging that the federal and provincial governments announce the conditions for the municipal winter works incentive plan early in the spring, so that municipalities can budget for such work in the following winter.

Frost Blamed For Injury At Work Of Cherryville Man

LUMBY (Correspondent) — Vernon Junior Boys downed the Lumby crew in soccer at Lumby this week. Score at the end of the game was 2-0. It was an excellent game despite the fact Lumby was without three of its best players. Mumps was the villain, sidelining Garry Dickson, Harold Schmidt and goalie Art Beck. Deloy Routley took over for Beck, doing a fine job, although he had not played the position for two years. Vernon dressed 20 players, Lumby 13.

James Devan, Cherryville, is in Vernon Jubilee Hospital with a badly fractured leg. The accident has been attributed to early morning frost. Mr. Devan, a truck driver for Ivor Hanson, was loading his vehicle at the Millar and Son camp near Bison Lake when the mishap occurred. He slipped, falling 31 feet. Bison Lake is high on the Monashee mountains. One of the Millar crew took the injured man to hospital. Devan is married with three children.

Chil Millar has returned after a stay in Vancouver general hospital. His family says he will have another short stay at Vernon Jubilee Hospital before returning to work.

Camille Chabot is in Vernon hospital following an appendectomy.

LIBRARY REVIEW

Here is the second installment of the final book review by Elisabeth Scotson, former Kelowna librarian, who is now on her way back to England via the Orient and the Middle East.

Antoine de Saint-Exupery had become something of a legend before he disappeared on a reconnaissance flight in 1944, for both as a flier and as a writer he held a unique place in French literature.

Now Marcel Migee, a friend and fellow-aviator, has written "Saint-Exupery," a biography of this pilot-poet that will clear away some of the inventions and misconceptions that have arisen since his death.

Migee provides us with a vivid portrait of the highly-gifted and charming person whose own books — "The Little Prince," "Wind, Sand and Stars" etc. — helped to create the legend of "St. Ex." This new book confirms it!

Perhaps every woman likes to feel there is something she can do to better her looks or appeal, and "How to Have Model Beauty: Poise or Personality" by J. R. Powers is a book just full of useful advice for the young, the middle-aged, and the older woman. Chapters are given on make-up, posture and poise, confidence and charm, etiquette and grooming, with hints for would-be professional models.

"Power Girls" are famous on this continent for their glamour, but their creator and author of this work makes every woman feel she has "possibilities!"

"Dear Folks" by Juliet Lowell is advertised as "An unexpurgated Collection of Screwball Letters to, from and about the youngest generation," and if you are looking for laughter, this little collection of junior anecdotes should be just the book!

Another anthology that is likely to be popular is "Toaster's Treasury" by E. L. Friedman, who, as a director of a national reference library, has had access to a wide range of sources. This book seems to provide the right remark for every occasion, from toasts to the bride.

to humor for special purposes, and anyone who feels doubtful about making speeches should find plenty of answers and advice in this useful work.

F. L. WRIGHT
Frank Lloyd Wright, the American architect, became an accepted pioneer in his own field during his life, but there has long been a need for a survey of the immense range of his work and ideas, in his "Writings and Buildings" we have at last a book designed to fill this need, since it presents in his own words his attitude to architecture, and the expression of these ideas set against the wider background of nature itself. His own homes of Taliesin and Taliesin West, and some of his other major works, are described in detail, and from these literary descriptions as well as from his structures one gains many confirmations of Wright's genius.

Perhaps you'd prefer a war book? "Out of the Smoke" by Ray Parkin seems all set to become one of the most famous stories of the war at sea, for it tells in simple terms the sad but brave tale of the sinking of the HMS Perth, and of the sufferings of a handful of survivors who attempted to sail a small boat back to Allied lines in Java.

They failed and fell into enemy hands, only to survive further hardships in Japanese prisoner-of-war camps.

Now their defeat, which is itself a tale of personal triumph, is retold by one who shared all these trials and who only now dares to remember that story. It is one few people will forget.

Cycling Light 'Not Needed' On Vernon Rd.

W. M. Underwood, district superintendent of highways, does not agree that a cycling light is necessary at the Harvey Ave.-Vernon Rd. intersection.

He has written Kelowna City Council that he "cannot concur this intersection is particularly hazardous."

Mr. Underwood pointed out while there have been 15 accidents since the cutoff was put through there, only six occurred since the flashing light warning was installed.

He added that none of these six accidents would have been prevented by an operating cycling light.

While there might be some benefit in moving a power pole on the north western corner, he continued, this would be pointless unless the latticework on the north side of Harvey was removed or reduced.

Council, which had recently suggested the necessity of a flashing light to Mr. Underwood, decided to seek an interview with the manager of the latticework property to discuss the situation.

A loading platform has been erected on the Ellison Elementary School playground by one neighboring grower, while another's trucks are driving "all round" the school area.

However, T. R. Carter informed his colleagues at a meeting of Kelowna and District School Board, Wednesday, that both men are acting in good faith.

Water Contract Can Now Be Signed At Rutland

The monthly meeting of the Rutland Park Society and Recreation Commission met in the Recreation Hall yesterday evening.

Business transacted included authorizing the president to sign a contract with the Rutland Waterworks District for the domestic connection, which now supplies the hall and caretaker's cabin, and is used for filling the swimming pool in summer.

The work of installing plumbing in the new hall has been completed, but there is still some work to be done to prepare the hall for winter use. The treasurer, Mrs. T. Graf, reported that accounts totalling over $600 had been paid, and the society has a balance of slightly over $100 in hand.

The Recreation Commission funds in hand total $200, with no outstanding accounts. The Park Society has an outstanding account of $300, owing to the movers of the hall. Lack of representation from the most of the local organizations that make up the Recreation Commission prevented any discussion of plans for this body's activities for the coming months.

The ladies of the Park Society held a successful rummage sale on Saturday last, realizing $35, but still have a quantity of goods to dispose of, and are continuing the sale each afternoon this week.

Presidential TV Debates Can Only Prove Harmful to U.S.

It is to be hoped that the United States has seen the last of TV political debates and this dreadful device is never allowed to take place in Canada. The Nixon-Kennedy debates have been good entertainment but they have added nothing good whatsoever to the presidential campaign and indeed they may prove to be very detrimental to the welfare of the United States and of the free world.

It is appalling to think that the leader of the largest nation in the western orbit may be chosen because of his ability to mug before a TV camera. The debates have proven that both Nixon and Kennedy are first-rate debaters. They are fast thinkers and have glib tongues. In other words, they are excellent entertainment material.

But none of the qualifications that make them good entertainers are necessarily the qualifications that make them good presidential material. The man who is elected president, should he prove to be a good president, will do so not because of but in spite of those qualifications which make him a good TV mugger.

The man who as president must make big and important decisions needs other qualifications than the ability to stand up in front of a camera and engage in verbal jousting.

It is frightening to imagine that on November 8th, the American people may elect as their leader the man who can smile the easier and the broader, who has the glibber tongue and who is the faster thinker. The man who can twist words to create an impression suitable to all men.

The appalling thing is that such a man might—and quite possibly would not—prove to be a good president. A far better president might be found in the man who thinks not as quickly but more deeply, whose tongue doesn't roll the words as easily or as quickly but does so more thoughtfully and more seriously. Ability to mug before a camera does not mean leadership qualifications are also present.

One of the greatest objections to the TV debates is continued is that they would tend to narrow the already limited field of those who could qualify and offer themselves as candidates. Should it become an established part of the future presidential campaigns that any candidate offering himself for the presidential office must participate in public TV debates, it naturally follows that the potential field of candidates will be naturally considerably circumscribed. The campaign as presently conducted demands enough of a man without the addition of TV debates. Then, too, many a man who would make a good president would fail miserably before the camera's eye. Able people who could probably serve their country well would refuse to participate or, agreeing, would fail miserably to put on an adequate "show" for the TV audience.

Again, it is quite possible that a hastily spoken word, a glib statement, made during such debates, might have a very detrimental effect upon the policies of the U.S. government following the election. Such a spoken word could tie the president's hands, could affect government policy. The Nixon-Kennedy discussion on the Chinese Nationalist islands may already have done just that.

There is no good reason for continuing these debates. (Oh! We admit they are good entertainment but the election of the most capable president available is more important than a "good show.") To continue them can only eventually mean lesser men elected to the presidency.

As for their introduction into Canadian election campaigns, Heaven forbid!

The Brotherhood of Hate

"The primary consideration is the destiny of Afrikanerdom to be sole owner of South Africa. Brothers, our solution of South Africa's ailments is not whether one party or another shall obtain the whip hand, but that the Broederbond shall govern South Africa."

This remarkable statement, issued in 1934 by the powerful Boer secret society called the Broederbond, reveals much that is unexplained in South Africa's recent decision to become a republic.

I. M. Lombard, then secretary-general of the Broederbond explained this as meaning that the society would "put its feet on the necks of the English-speaking foreigners."

This helps explain the mentality of Prime Minister Verwoerd who considers his Nationalist Party to be representative of all South Africans. To him, the only true South Africans are Boers; others are intruders.

It is cause for sorrow that this concept of political justice should prevail in South Africa. Far from uniting the country, existing divisions will be widened and the misery of most of its people prolonged.

South Africa has been a handicap to civilized progress in continental Africa for too long. If South Africa does, in fact, become a republic and does, in the end, apply for Commonwealth membership, Canada should vote against her. To admit her, would be to condone neo-Nazi mentality and jeopardize the West's position and interests throughout the Afro-Asian community.—Financial Post.

Genial Scot Pilots Ship Through Dangerous Waters

By STAN McCABE

Canadian Press Staff Writer

CHURCHILL, Man. (CP)—A genial Scot who adopted Nova Scotia as his home pilots ships into this northern Manitoba harbor where "boulders stick up from the bottom like raisins in a pie."

Capt. James Rose of Wolfville, N.S., has been the pilot at this bleak Hudson Bay port since 1949 and he has had no serious accidents with the ships in his care.

Asked by a visiting seaman whether he was the only pilot for the port at the mouth of the Churchill River, he replied: "No there are 20 of us. I'm the only one who's daft enough to go on the ships."

"Every stevedore on the wharf is a pilot."

He appears to take his job lightly but by simply reciting the bare details of his work he proves it is no cliché. And in a serious moment he admits "It takes a bloody good heart."

BRIEF SEASON

To Saskatchewan wheat farmers the port of Churchill is an outlet to Europe that gives them a better price for their grain. It doesn't cost as much to ship through Churchill to Europe as it does through the Great Lakes.

To mariners it is a tough port of call. Ice, weather and navigational difficulties all arise in short shipping season that this year lasted from late July to Oct. 12.

Located just beyond the tree line 600 miles north of Winnipeg and 850 miles south of the Arctic Circle, it had temperatures in the 20s and 40s even in late September. Chill winds from the north whipped rain, snow and heavy mist across the port.

Sometimes ships anchored in the bay to the northeast of the river mouth could not be seen from shore.

And the cold structural steel and bleak concrete of the docks, stevedores in hooded parkas had their shouts carried away by the wind as they lowered grain-trimming machines into the holds of ships.

NARROW CHANNEL

The port has 1,885 feet of dock wall where ships berth, but the main grain gallery is only 1,460 feet long. Two ships can share the four grain spouts.

Between the wall of the pier and the other side of the channel out in the river the distance is only 600 feet. And the far edge of the channel is mostly boulders.

Capt. Rose said there are several reasons why it is difficult to dock a ship at Churchill. There is no protection against winds west of north and the flow "of a long river with a tiny little mouth" is unpredictable.

Ships come in bow-first against an ebb tide that can run up to seven knots (almost 10 m.p.h.)

in the river and about five knots at the wharf. There may be about five to 10 minutes of "dead water" between the tides which change twice a day and run from 10 to 15 feet.

90 MINUTES TO TURN

Fighting the ebb tide on the river can be a hair-raising experience even for a pilot who has worked the port for 11 years. With such currents, it is a tough job for a pilot handling a 520-foot-long grain ship such as the Greek Donna Katerine to be turned end-for-end in a channel only 600 feet wide.

When a heavily loaded grain ship is ready to leave the move must await flood tide. Otherwise the tug could not pull the stern away from the wharf against the current. It takes about 90 minutes to turn a ship until she is clear and headed down the channel.

The first heading is 40 degrees west of North. "The worst part," said Capt. Rose, "is a point of boulders sticking out in the channel like an arrow—Ship Point. There you have to turn to a course 50 degrees east of north."

This means a ship carrying 10,000 tons of wheat, rushing downstream on a seven-knot current, must be turned through a right angle without piling up on the boulders opposite the point or on the point itself. That's where Capt. Rose's "bloody good heart" comes in.

POOR ANCHORAGE

The pilot takes a grain ship out about two miles in flood weather—the water depth at that point is about 45 feet. Coming in the pilot may be on the ship for two hours before she is safely secured.

One of the complaints of visiting skippers has been the anchorage at the northeast of the river mouth. The bottom consists of boulders, sand and mud—not what mariners call "good holding ground."

During a strong wind in September, Capt. Rose noticed from his office that two ships lying off awaiting berths were dragging their anchors. He notified their skippers before they themselves realized they were being pushed toward shore.

Capt. Rose, 48-year-old native of Edinburgh, has been at sea since he was 15. He was on the North Atlantic run during the Second World War and came to Canada in 1941. Later he was master of a Roman Catholic mission ship in the north and worked on Canadian Arctic supply ships.

Montreal's New Mayor Is Just A Gardener At Heart

MONTREAL (CP)—Jean Drapeau, lawyer, vice-buster, one-time nationalist politician, and newly-elected mayor of Montreal, has one complaint about public life—it prevents him from putting in his vegetable and flower garden.

A family man with simple tastes, Mr. Drapeau, 44, likes to spend his leisure time in the garden behind his cosy cottage in Montreal's middle-class Rosemount district.

His appearance doesn't reflect the fiery reputation that has built up around him. He's a man of average build, scholarly in appearance with trim mustache, a fading hairline and thick-rimmed glasses.

In college he was known as studious—but a determined rebel who harangued the student body into protest demonstrations with vivid oratory.

COLD CAMPAIGNER

Bouncy, idealistic and a vigorous speaker, he is a cold and hard-hitting campaigner on the political platform, barbed in speech and sometimes inclined to mud-slinging. But not face-to-face, his personality is warm.

A carryover from his student years is a prolific capacity for reading. His other interests, photography and woodworking, he was able to combine in a home project during one of the infrequent lulls in his career.

In the basement of his home he built a rumpus room for his three children—Francis, 13, Pierre, 12, and Michel, 9. To one side a darkroom where he develops his own photos.

Controversy in large heaps has marked his political career. When first elected Montreal's mayor in 1954, the springboard was a reform platform arising from a vice investigation conducted by Mr. Justice Francois Caron.

Mr. Drapeau served as a public prosecutor and the court hearings showed top-ranking police officials had tolerated gambling houses and brothels for years.

YOUNGEST MAYOR

Calling for a clean-up, he won an eight-way mayoralty race in a landslide—at 38 becoming the city's youngest mayor. Then came a crusade against bawdy houses, the bookies and night club owners who kept their places open long after hours.

How effective was the campaign? It depends on whom you ask.

Some say the lid was on as puritan-light as Montreal will ever get. But many claim you could still bet a buck or get a drink no matter what the hour and loose women were as plentiful as before.

Mr. Drapeau did, however, introduce a municipal political party system in that election, helping to found a group called the Civic Action League.

NEW POLICE CHIEF

In the police department, Paquette (Pax) Plante, a fellow-lawyer in the vice investigation and Mr. Drapeau's long-time personal friend, took over as acting police director after the director bowed out with a voluntary leave of absence.

With many of the men on the beat, Pax was anything but popular. They remembered his bitter attacks against the department during the vice investigation.

In the 1957 municipal election a key issue was a slum clearance and low-rental housing program that was pushed through council despite Mr. Drapeau's opposition.

Mr. Drapeau maintained he was not against slum clearance. But he felt that new apartments built downtown would in turn become slums in a couple of years. He was beaten by Senator Sarto Fournier.

The low-rental housing development stands in near completion in downtown Montreal. Mr. Plante has vanished from the administrative scene.

OVERWHELMING WIN

On Oct. 24 Mr. Drapeau scored an overwhelming victory in the mayoralty—battering, sweeping majority in the council with his back to power with a clear-cut ship together.

Civic Party of Montreal, a splinter movement he formed after falling out with the Civic Action League.

Jean Drapeau—his name translated from the French means "flag"—launched his political life in 1942. In a by-election he was a 26-year-old candidate for Montreal's federal riding of Outremont, under the banner of the now-defunct nationalist bloc Populaire party. He was shipped by Maj. Gen. Georges Lafleche, then national defence minister.

Two years later he entered the provincial field and ran in Montreal-Jean Mance. But again he was defeated.

BACK TO LAW

In the years before the vice hubbub, he retreated to his private law practice, specializing in commercial and corporate fields.

In 1945, he married the former Marie Claire Boucher, like himself a native Montrealer.

He was born in the district he lives in now and attended the University of Montreal from 1937 to 1941. He earned degrees in law and social, economic and political science and was admitted to the Montreal bar in 1943.

GREAT WATERFALL

The perpendicular drop on Labrador's Grand Falls is 245 feet, compared to 162 feet at the Horseshoe Falls at Niagara.

BIBLE BRIEF

All who see and hear the gospel may enjoy a blessed fellowship together.

OTTAWA REPORT

Few M.P.s. Hold 25-Year Badge

By PATRICK NICHOLSON

Very few members of our House of Commons have earned their "quarter-century" badge for 25 years of uninterrupted service.

The two longest-time veterans are both Conservatives. Hon. Earl Rowe has the earliest association with Parliament, having first been elected in 1925. But there was a break in his membership between 1936-1937, when he briefly led the Ontario provincial Conservative party.

Bob McGregor was elected for the first time in 1923, and has held his seat since without a break.

Then came a group of five M.P.s who first entered our House of Commons at the general election on October 14, 1935. These include Conservatives Howard Green and Frank Leonard, and Liberals Paul Martin, Lionel Chevrier and Axelius Denis. All of these have sat continuously, except Hon. Lionel Chevrier who had a brief break between 1954 and 1957 when he served as president of the St. Lawrence Seaway Authority.

PAUL MARTIN, EMERITUS

Of these seven veterans of our Commons, the best-known to the electors across Canada is without any doubt Hon. Paul Martin. He achieved national prominence as a politician and world recognition as a statesman between 1946 and 1957.

In those years, he piloted the building up of our department of national health and welfare, over which he was minister, and he often served with skill and distinction as substitute for Mike Pearson as our foreign minister.

I don't believe Paul Martin ever actually lived in a log cabin, although his father worked for an Ottawa Valley lumbering company. I don't know whether Paul Martin will ever achieve his lifetime ambition to be the head of our government. But in both these respects, as in many others, Paul comes close to setting a Canadian pattern in the Abe Lincoln tradition.

The lifetime trail of this 57-year-old campaigner seems to me to be especially notable for two remarkable achievements. In the first place, despite what was then the severe handicap of a father's slender pay packet, the young Paul managed to put himself through not one but five colleges.

He graduated from the University of Toronto, he qualified as a lawyer at Osgoode Hall, and he studied at U.S.A.'s Harvard University, at England's Cambridge University, and at Switzerland's single copy sales price, 5 cents.

Geneva School of International Studies.

So it was little surprise that the minister of health, the 43-year-old baby of the Liberal cabinet when he first assumed that post, attracted an intellectual recognition regarded by many observers as unmatched among his colleagues in that Liberal cabinet.

Secondly, Paul Martin bravely used himself as a guinea pig to break through the unfortunate and immature tradition deliberately fostered in his political party, treating English-speaking and French-speaking Canadians as separate and alternating breeds of cats.

Paul himself has exactly the same parentage as his former leader, Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent—half French and half Irish. Paul was raised as a typical French-Canadian catholic boy through his teens. He then deliberately set out to deracinate himself, to make himself an unphased Canadian, as we all should be.

Today, as a front bench opposition star, this stocky, bespectacled and neatly-dressed former cabinet minister poses a constant threat to the government.

On November 24, his many friends and admirers will honor this great Canadian at a banquet in Windsor, to mark his quarter-century in our House of Commons.

Pretty Double Ring Rites At St. Theresa's Catholic Church

Chrysanthemums and roses decorated St. Theresa's Catholic Church at Rutland on the morning of Oct. 8, for the double ring wedding ceremony of Mary Margaret Evangeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Milne of Rutland to Barry Langeloo of Revelstoke, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Langeloo of Amsterdam, Holland. Officiating was the Reverend Father F. Flynn and the organist was Miss Lucille Meier of Rutland.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and was radiant in a floor length gown of lace and net over satin, trimmed with sequins and pearls. The full skirt fell gracefully over a "bowed" hoop and the fitted bodice had long lily point sleeves. A pearl tulle held her chapel length veil which was edged with daisy and pearl trimming and she wore a silver cross and chain at her neckline. She carried a bouquet of red roses and white feathered carnations.

The maid of honor was Miss Louba Bolotsky of Rutland who wore a dress of aqua blue chiffon over net and satin. Miss Beatrice Harman of Kelowna was bridesmaid and wore a dress of yellow chiffon over taffeta and net. Their headresses were tiaras of brilliant and they carried heart shaped bouquets of red and white carnations.

The brother of the bride, Mr. Thomas Milne of Rutland and Mr. Joseph Hamby of Revelstoke were the groom's attendants, and the ushers were Mr. J. M. Salmon of Revelstoke and Mr. Herman Van de Erenbeent of Kelowna.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the Royal Anne Hotel. The mother of the bride received in a cream and brown Arnel crepe dress with chocolate brown belt and accessories complimented by a corsage of yellow carnations. A telegram was received from Amsterdam, Holland from the groom's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. Langeloo and his brother Mr. Harry Langeloo who were unable to attend the wedding, and also, one from Victoria from Mr. and Mrs. George Armstrong.

MR. AND MRS. BARRY LANGELOO

Among the out of town guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hamby of Revelstoke; Mr. J. M. Salmon of Revelstoke; Miss Ann Bullock of Kamloops, B.C.; Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Millar of Revelstoke, and Mrs. George Armstrong.

For her honeymoon to different points in the United States, the bride changed to a pale blue flannel suit with pastel pink accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Langeloo will reside in Revelstoke.

AROUND the TOWN

Mrs. Max de Puyffler left on a most unusual and interesting Wednesday for Seattle where she will visit her son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Joel Rindal and meet her brand new grandson who is to be named P'ic Joel.

Miss Margery Lambert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alan M. Lambert, Beach Avenue, has joined the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo Company. Miss Lambert studied in New Westminster with Josephine Slater, and in Tacoma, Washington with Jan Collum. For the last three years she has been studying in New York with the American School of Ballet, Robert Joffrey, and latterly with the Ballet Russe. The company starts rehearsals in November and will start their tour in December. Miss Lambert was chosen from among sixty contestants.

A surprise farewell party hosted by the staff of the Kelowna Library was held on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Shaw-MacLaren in honor of Miss Elisabeth Scotson who is leaving Kelowna on Thursday to return via a long journey to her home in North Wales. The staff members presented Miss Scotson with a lovely photograph of Shuksan Mountain taken by her friend Mr. Gordon Hartley.

Friends of Miss Elisabeth Scotson who has been working in the Kelowna Regional Library as a librarian for the past year, will be sorry to hear that she is leaving today on a long trip which will not terminate until next spring when she reaches her home in North Wales. Miss Scotson is going alone on a most adventurous and interesting trip through the Far East and Central Europe. She is travelling first to Vancouver for a few days farewell visit with her friends here and then will fly to San Francisco en route to Reno, the Grand Canyon, Las Vegas and Los Angeles, where she plans to attend a concert at the Hollywood Bowl, after which she will return to San Francisco and fly from there to Hawaii where she will be the guest of a friend who lives on the island of Molokai and hopes to visit many parts of the Islands which are not frequented by the usual tourists.

From Hawaii she will fly to Japan where she will visit the classical city of Kyoto which was the old capital of Japan before industrial Tokyo was born. Miss Scotson is planning to spend Christmas and New Year's in Hong Kong continuing on to India in January where she will visit Calcutta and Delhi and see the Taj Mahal by moonlight, after which she plans to do some mountain climbing in the Himalayan Mountains, leaving from Darjeeling accompanied by two Sherpa guide-companions.

On leaving India she will take one of the most unusual and interesting bus camping trips. The bus travels this route only once every year and tents for the passengers to sleep in are provided by the bus line but they must take their own camping equipment and sleeping bags and rough it, as they tour through Persia, along the coast of the Black Sea, through Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia and Southern Europe and finally back to England.

One of Miss Scotson's problems has been how to take sufficient clothing to wear in all the different climates she will encounter, on the small airplane luggage allowance, and she is very grateful for the new non-wrinkling, washable materials. She has shipped her mountain climbing equipment ahead and is planning to manage the whole trip with one large suitcase and a grip.

During her sojourn in Canada Miss Scotson travelled extensively here and has been to many places off the beaten track that numbers of native Canadians have never seen. She says she loves Canada and hopes to return some day but that it will not be for several years at least. We are indeed sorry to lose such an original and adventurous member of our community.

An Engagement Of Interest Is Announced

Mr. and Mrs. Pius Wildeman of Kelowna wish to announce the engagement of their daughter Bernice Phyllis Wildeman to Mr. Lorne Gary Thomson of Kamloops, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomson of Kelowna. The wedding will take place at Saint Pius X Church on November 12.

George Besseney, Hungarian dramatist who died in 1911, was a member of the famed Hungarian Horse Guards.

Solled crease lines in such items as a brown band can be removed by applying thick soda, letting stand a few minutes, then inching soda back and forth in caterpillar motion with thumb and forefinger.

WOOLKNIT SHIRTWAIST

By ALICE ALDEN
Chances are that one of the new wool knits shown this season will be a real wardrobe wonder. And, if it's a shirtwaist, so much the better for all concerned.

This one has three box pleats tucked smartly into each side of the slim skirt. A low Peter Pan collar, deepish dolman sleeves, and a leather belt complete the pretty yet practical picture. Comes in delicious colors as well as basic black.

OYAMA

A farewell tea in honor of Mrs. M. Carlson was held at the home of Mrs. C. Townsend recently when the ladies of the United Church gathered to wish her happiness in her new home. Mr. and Mrs. M. Carlson and family are moving to Kelowna soon where they will take up residence.

Visiting with Mrs. E. Eyles and Miss F. Cliffe over the weekend were their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. (Tony) Cliffe of Bowen Island. Mr. Cliffe was a pioneer fruit grower in the area and was pleased to discover that one of the local roads had been named after him. With Mr. and Mrs. Cliffe were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dorrman also of Bowen Island.

Recent visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Allingham were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Allingham and family from Duncan, B.C.

Janice Nairne is a patient in the Kelowna General Hospital following an accident at school. Friends and fellow students wish her a speedy recovery.

The evening Guild to St. Mary's Anglican Church recently held two bake sales in the packing-houses which were very successful and the sum of over $50 was realized.

Visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Max Poyntz over the weekend was his brother, Mr. R. Poyntz of Victoria.

RUTLAND

The formation of a company of Girl Guides in Rutland has now taken place. Twenty-four girls were enrolled at the first meeting, held in the Recreational Hall on Friday evening last. Mrs. Harry Band is to be the Guide Captain, and her assistant will be Mrs. R. G. Laying. The Guide Company is an outgrowth of the establishment a few years ago of the local Brownie pack, sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Fire Department. With numbers of these Brownies now over the age limit the formation of a Guide Company was a natural sequence. The district had an active Guide Company for many years, back in the thirties, but no company had been in active existence since.

Bennett, District Commissioner read a short outline on the functions of the Group Committees. She also explained how the "Census Money" collected every year from all the Guides and Brownies is apportioned: 10c for Insurance, 35c to Dominion Headquarters and 55c to Provincial Headquarters. Discussion ensued regarding the closing of the Guide Camp for the winter and Mrs. Bruce Deans gave a report on the Local Council of Women and their aims and objectives. Both brownies and Guides requested and received permission to collect for UNICEF on Halloween.

Women Should Not Be Slaves To Fads

MONTREAL (CP)—A famous French designer, in Canada to show his collection, said women should not be slaves to fashion fads or changes.

"Women should stick to their own types," said Pierre Balmain. "They should let their clothes express their personalities" rather than follow the latest trends. "It's ridiculous for a woman to try to change because one designer says no bosoms this year."

The tall, personable designer did his own commentary at the department - store - sponsored showing here.

His clothes were modelled on "personality" with the mannequins as individual women dressed for different occasions.

BRITISH ACTRESS
There was, for instance, Lady Filmer, an actress married into British nobility. She was seen first going to lunch at the Berkeley in London, later at an auction of paintings and finally at the Dorchester Hotel for cocktails. A Montrealer, Miss Verity, also had cocktails, shopped on Sherbrooke Street and attended a museum ball.

There were also French women, an Italian diplomat's wife, an American diplomat's wife and a German girl represented in this unique fashion showing.

The German girl, explained Mr. Balmain, liked to be daring and wore her skirts "rather short."

There's not just one style but many... and several to be favorites with you. Knits, 100% wool worsteds, new wash and wear wonder fabrics in new fall shades of lavender and purple and a host of other flattering colors. Sizes 8 to 20 and 14 1/2 to 24 1/2.

B.C. Lions Will Be Minus Randy Duncan Next Year

VANCOUVER (CP)—Quarterback Randy Duncan, former all-American from Iowa University, now completing his second year with British Columbia Lions, said today he doesn't expect to return to the B.C. football club next year.

He indicated he will shelve his professional football career to pursue law studies. Unless he has a change of heart before next summer, Duncan will play his last game here Saturday night when Lions and the Saskatchewan Roughriders close out the Western Interprovincial Football Union season.

"I'm working towards my law degree and it's becoming increasingly hard to play football in Canada and study in the States," said Duncan. "I took my pre-law at Iowa and I have to go back to Drake University to finish off the final three years for my degree." Duncan added that he has never considered himself a career athlete.

Hebenton In Comeback As Rangers Nip Wings 4-3

By THE CANADIAN PRESS
Andy Hebenton, a picture of frustration when the New York Rangers finished last in the National Hockey League last season, is making a comeback this season.

Hebenton now is a feared man around the nets and came up with big goals Wednesday night against Detroit Red Wings. Hebenton, 31, scored twice—his fourth and fifth goals in nine games—to lead the Rangers to a 4-3 triumph over the Red Wings in the league's only game. The victory lifted the Rangers into a fourth-place tie with Toronto Maple Leafs in the standings.

Andy Bathgate and rookie Len Ronson also scored for the Rangers while Howie Glover, Pete Goegan and Parker MacDonald of Sydney scored for Detroit.

SLUMPED LAST SEASON

Hebenton, who has played in 364 consecutive games since coming to the Rangers at the start of the 1955-56 season, got 19 goals and 27 assists last season. It was the first time he had failed to score at least 21 goals in one season.

Hebenton scored his two goals Wednesday within one minute and 11 seconds in the second period to send the Rangers into a 3-1 lead.

He fired his first at 8:42, slapping defenceman Bill Gadsby's rebound past goalie Terry Sawchuk. His second came at 9:53 after taking a neat pass from linemate Camille Henry.

WORSLEY WAS BACK

Lorne Worsley was back in the nets after being replaced by Olympic hockey hero Jack McCartan for two games. He came through with 43 saves, 20 of them in the final period. Terry Sawchuk had a easier night, stopping 21 shots.

The Rangers will attempt to move up another notch in the standings tonight when they meet the winless Bruins at Boston, in the league's only game.

The Bruins, with only five ties in eight games, Wednesday recalled forwards Charlie Burns and Gerry Ouellette from Kingston Frontenacs of the Eastern Professional Hockey League.

TO MAKE ROOM FOR THE NEW PLAYERS

General Manager Lynn Patrick ordered forward Dick Melsner to report to Kingston and Bill Carlin to Hull-Ottawa Canadiens of the same league.

Ouellette will temporarily replace injured Doug Mohns at one left wing spot while Burns' promotion is likely to be permanent. Burns was with the Bruins last season.

Shortage Of Librarians Across Canada Noted

WINNIPEG (CP) — About 300 more librarians are needed to fill present vacancies in Canada, the president of the Canadian Library Association says.

Neal Harlow, chief librarian at the University of British Columbia, Vancouver, made the remark during the annual meeting of the Manitoba association here.

Mr. Harlow told delegates the national library association is conducting an inquiry into the state of the library profession in Canada.

"Not since 1946 has there been an attempt to look at the library resources of Canada as a whole. Since those post-war years, when librarians' salaries began at $1,400 a year, many changes have taken place."

"But we have not systematically noted what the changes are, nor judged whether they are suitable, adequate, sufficiently well-supported, or whether they are being extended rapidly enough in the right directions."

Mr. Harlow cited low salaries and lack of teaching facilities as the chief reasons for the shortage of librarians. In some parts of the country, librarians were making as much money as school teachers but in other areas, they were still badly underpaid.

A new graduate school of library studies at UBC, opening soon, would help meet the needs of the western provinces.

Another objective of the Canadian Library Association was to establish a certification system for librarians across the country. At present, only Ontario and British Columbia certify librarians.

Mayor Wins Re-election In Winnipeg

WINNIPEG (CP) — Mayor Stephen Juba of Winnipeg was re-elected to office Wednesday with the largest majority in his career as chief magistrate.

With all returns in from the 425 polls in the city, Mayor Juba had 57,370 votes. His only opponent, two-time loser Stan Curick, had 5,082. Mayor Juba was elected to his third consecutive two-year term of office.

In 1958, Mayor Juba polled 59,710 but Mr. Curick and another opponent managed 12,000 between them.

Mayor Juba, 46, is a native son of Winnipeg, who also has two elections to the Manitoba legislature to his credit, both times running as an Independent. He ran twice for mayor before being elected, in 1952 and in 1954.

In addition to voting for the mayor, City of Winnipeg voters also passed a Sunday sports referendum and a $1,000,000 school board money bylaw. However, a $6,250,000 "omnibus" bylaw, which required a 60-per-cent majority to pass, was defeated.

The Sunday sports referendum, which needed only a simple majority, will permit city council to authorize specific commercial sports and entertainment. It passed with 37,245 votes in favor and 22,032 against.

The bidding:

1♣ Pass 1♠ Pass
2♠ Pass 4♠

Opening lead—eight of hearts. Most hands in bridge are easy to bid and easy to play. Each side just goes about its business and a par result occurs.

But there are undoubtedly many complicated hands that present a challenge to the skill of a player. In these hands, clear thinking and good judgment tell the tale. The objective is to simplify what appears to be a complex situation. South was in four spades and got a heart lead. He ducked in dummy and East won with the jack. East returned the queen of diamonds.

Declarer took the ace and led a spade to the jack. East showing out. This unexpected development created a problem for declarer. He had intended to draw trumps and cash his 11 high-card tricks—five spades, four clubs, and two side aces.

But when it turned out at trick three that West had been dealt five spades to the ten, South modified his original plan of play.

He crossed to his hand with the jack of clubs, led a low spade and finessed the nine.

Then, after cashing the queen of spades, he played a club to the king, intending to draw both of West's remaining trumps and thus make 11 tricks. Unfortunately, West ruffed the club and returned a heart.

It did not matter now what South did—he was doomed to defeat. He had to lose another heart, a diamond, and an additional club ruff regardless of how he played. So down he went.

However, declarer should not have allowed the bad trump break to upset him. He should have made the hand. In his anxiety to avoid the loss of a trump trick by means of a finesse, South lost sight of the main objective—fulfillment of the contract.

Having started to draw trumps, he should have continued by cashing the queen, king and ace. He could then start the parade of clubs. By this method of play he could not lose more than a spade, a heart, and a diamond.

TEMPLE PROBLEM

WELLING, England (CP)—Town council of this Kent community is paying 25 guineas for an expert opinion on a 20-year-old Grecian temple. It ordered a "stay of execution" after previously recommending that the building be demolished because of its dilapidated condition.

TURNIP TRACERS

ANNAN, Scotland (CP)—Turnips are being used to trace the movement of radio-active water being discharged into Solway Firth from a plutonium works here. The specially-marked turnips are put into the discharge pipe, and residents have been asked to turn them in when they are washed up.

INSIDE YOU AND YOURS

Small Word For Large Thyroid

By BURTON H. FERN, M.D.

Can goiter be cured? What can be done when medicines fail?

Goiter is a small word for a large thyroid. Usually, this gland lies along each side of the Adam's apple like a pair of plums growing from a common stem below.

You can't see these glands, because they creep and crawl into every crack and crevice inside the neck. Even doctors have to put magnifying glasses on their finger tips when they feel for thyroid trouble.

But you don't always need 20/20 finger tips to discover goiters. They sometimes grow into small watermelons bulging in front of the Adam's apple.

JUST A SYMPTOM
Yet goiter is not a disease; it's only a symptom.

In almost any high school, you can find healthy girls with thyroid glands overfilling their blouse and collars. These goiters soon evaporate, along with all the energy and gusto of adolescence.

Like a souped-up sports car, the thyroid drives you into all sorts of activity, burning fuel into energy as you whip along. Controlling all this thyroid action, the tycoon-like pituitary gland sits in the driver's seat beneath the brain, with a heavy chemical foot on the gas. The pituitary gland secretes a special chemical that speeds up the thyroid.

GREASED LIGHTNING
Inside each cell, a tiny pituitary-powered machine works like greased lightning. Iodine oils all the gears. Trouble starts when these gears break down or run out of oil. Broken-down unlubricated gears soon heat up and expand; the thyroid swells.

Your home town can govern your thyroid geography. Goiters are common in the bread basket of the United States—until Dr. David Marine showed how iodine deficiency resided in inland states far from coastal waters. Since then, salt shakers have been raining and pouring iodine into mid-western mouths.

STEP ON GAS
A perfectly lubricated thyroid

YOUR HOROSCOPE

FOR TOMORROW

If you have been up to your neck in work the past week, it is likely that this day you can get some rest. If you want to help someone out, keep a level head and you can do something really constructive without overtaxing yourself.

FOR THE BIRTHDAY

If tomorrow is your birthday, your horoscope indicates that the year ahead will be rewarded even though you will be hard at work, or we might say because you will be hard at work.

This November should, however, sparkle with social activity; but put your friends through a sieve to be sure which ones you want to cultivate. If you should be approached about any proposition, take it if it is clear, out in the open. If the person making the offer is evasive, complicated, shun the proposition as it will lead to one mare's-nest after another.

The confluence of two streams, social activity and financial interest, near the beginning of April, will make possible gala occasions and large-scale activities. Next September, cash in on your talent for understanding what is in the background. You will wind up the year with no obstacles in the path of your individual abilities.

A child born on this day would make a good secret government agent or sailor.

can also break down. Something inside its machinery may get out of whack. Again, the stubborn pituitary steps on the gas and again the thyroid swells into a sizeable goiter.

Don't confuse these worn-out goiters with supercharged overactive ones. When your thyroid slows down, you do, too. And so does your fuel consumption. You feel worn-out. You shuffle sluggishly. Laxtives become a habit as intestines slow down. Cold cuts right through you because of sluggish circulation and slow metabolism. Fluid thickens your skin with a weak attempt at insulation.

You need that "Go" power which only thyroid chemicals can give—with help from that expert mechanic, your doctor. As thyroid prescriptions pep you up, the goiter usually goes down.

As usual, complications and operations creep into the picture of this newspaper.

When you forget to use enough iodine!
